23 LOVE LANE

The buildings within the walls of 23 Love Lane were constructed at different times beginning from the 1800s, representing five different architectural periods. The 10-rooms hotel is situated in the heart of George Town and was originally a private residence owned by a European and later by a local family. Along the way, it became the Oasis Hotel, until it was bought by present owner in 2007. A renowned conservationist joined the team of architects and consultants and lovingly brought the buildings back to life in the three year project. 23 Love Lane Hotel opened for business in December 2011. We have since added Muntri Suites, a 3 rooms pre-war shop houses a few minutes' walk from the main building, and another stand alone heritage unit named Stewart Suite just around the corner.
